Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 14 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly dry on Friday but staying cold.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any rain, sleet or snow should clear this evening. Cloud will begin to thin leading to clear skies in places with a sharp frost and thick fog patches later. Becoming bitterly cold. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Friday:
Another cold day ahead with a sharp frost and areas of fog clearing slowly. Some sunny spells are possible before clouds build and winds begin to strengthen later. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Windy with rain and snow on Saturday, further snow accumulations possible. Mainly dry, bright, but cold on Sunday. A little milder on Monday with cloud, rain and strong winds later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.